A PRAYER FOR GROWING OLD GRACEFULLY

Lord, Thou knowest better than I do that I am growing older and will someday be old. Keep me from the fatal habit of thinking I must say something on every subject and on every occasion.

Release me from craving to straighten out everybody’s affairs. Make me thoughtful but not moody; helpful but not bossy. With my vast store of wisdom, it seems a pity not to use it all; but Thou knowest Lord, that I want a few friends at the end.

Keep my mind free from the recital of endless details; give me wings to get to the point. Seal my lips on my aches and pains; they are increasing, and love of rehearsing them is becoming sweeter as the years go by.

I dare not ask for improved memory, but for a growing humility, and a lessening cocksureness when my memory seems to clash with the memories of others. Teach me the glorious lesson that occasionally I may be mistaken.

Keep me reasonably sweet, for a sour old person is one of the crowning works of the devil. Give me the ability to see good things in unexpected places and talents in unexpected people, and give me, O Lord, the grace to tell them so. Amen

TWENTY-NINTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

Each year at tax time, we conscientiously give “to Caesar what belongs to Caesar.” Does my stewardship indicate that I am as faithful about giving “to God what belongs to God”? (See Matthew 22:21) or if celebrated as “Mission Sunday”

The bishops’ pastoral letter on stewardship reminds us, “Jesus not only calls people to him but also forms them and sends them out in his service. Being sent on a mission is a consequence of being a disciple.”

TAKE FIVE FOR FAITH

Invest just five minutes a day, and your faith will deepen and grow—a day at a time.

SUNDAY, OCTOBER 19, 2014

TWENTY-NINTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

Know to whom you belong

When Jesus speaks about giving to God and giving to Caesar, he is not talking about the “separation of church and state.” He’s making not a political statement, but a theological one. What “belongs” to God? Why, everything! “All your heart, soul, mind and strength.” If you have secular obligations and if they are just, then you fulfill them as an honorable citizen, but your “heart, soul and mind” belong not to the state, nor to your job or your favorite pastime. “You belong to Christ; and Christ belongs to God.”

TODAY’S READINGS: Isaiah 45:1, 4-6; 1 Thessalonians 1:1-5b; Matthew 22:15-21 (145). “Repay to Caesar what belongs to Caesar and to God what belongs to God.”

MONDAY, OCTOBER 20

MEMORIAL OF PAUL OF THE CROSS, PRIEST

Hold your complaint

Paul of the Cross, a mystic, saw in the Lord’s suffering and dying the greatest demonstration of God’s love. Though Jesus could have resisted his persecutors, he chose not to. Paul encouraged us to imitate Christ especially when tempted to lash out at someone who is bothering or irritating us. On a small scale we can choose the path Jesus chose on a very large scale: “When you feel the assaults of passion and anger,” wrote Paul, “then is the time to be silent as Jesus was silent in the midst of His ignominies and sufferings.” Though this approach runs counter to our assertive culture, try it out sometime and see if it does not bear unexpected fruit in your own life.

TODAY’S READINGS: Ephesians 2:1-10; Luke 12:13-21 (473). “You fool, this night your life will be demanded of you.”

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 21

Meet up with Christ

Being a Christian means waiting in hope with love. For centuries, believers have waited for Jesus’ return. The first disciples thought Christ’s return was imminent. That belief kept the fires of belief stoked, and that faith has been passed on through the years. Today, you can meet Christ through personal encounters in prayer, Eucharist, and other people. Meet everyone like Christ—that’s the mark of a living faith. That way, when Jesus comes, you will meet him with the same unifying love he shares with all people—even if you don’t recognize him right away.

TODAY’S READINGS: Ephesians 2:12-22; Luke 12:35-38 (474). “You are no longer strangers . . . you are fellow citizens with the holy ones.”

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 22

MEMORIAL OF SAINT JOHN PAUL II, POPE

Rise to the challenge

Lots of superlatives apply to John Paul II. He was one of the most popular and longest-serving popes in modern times and one of the most travelled world leaders in history. As part of his emphasis on the universal call to holiness, he beatified and canonized more people than all of the popes in the previous 500 years combined. He himself was canonized a mere nine years after his death. He’s an inspiration to Catholics, all of whom are charged to be stewards of God’s grace and to be quick to bestow it. Share the grace of your own faith today.

TODAY’S READINGS: Ephesians 3:2-12; Luke 12:39-48 (475). “More will be demanded of the person entrusted with more.”

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 23

MEMORIAL OF JOHN OF CAPISTRANO, PRIEST

The best of times, the worst of times

We live in dangerous and volatile times, no denying. Perhaps you hold back from giving more of yourself to God and neighbor for fear that it will all go to waste. Why bother if the world is so messed up, right? Wrong! It is times like these that demand our greatest commitment. John of Capistrano didn’t hold back, and he lived in some pretty turbulent times himself back in the 14th century. One third of Western Europe, and 40 percent of the clergy, was wiped out by bubonic plague. The church was in schism and great powers warred. All of it makes our own day seem positively tame. Don’t hold back—get some skin into the game.

TODAY’S READINGS: Ephesians 3:14-21; Luke 12:49-53 (476). “From now on a household of five will be divided.”

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 24

MEMORIAL OF ANTHONY MARY CLARET, BISHOP

Saint for all seasons

Some saints make their mark by doing only one thing, but doing it very well. Others, like Anthony Mary Claret, paint with a broader brush. Among other things, Claret founded a religious order, fought for social change, was a writer and publisher, archbishop and refugee, even for a while chaplain to the queen of Spain—against his wishes, as he let her know. He was especially revered in Cuba where he spoke out against the abuses of slavery, which rankled the landed class and brought upon him no less than 14 attempts on his life. Claret, you might say, lived life large. Dare to dream your own big dreams for the sake of the gospel—and get out there to make them happen.

TODAY’S READINGS: Ephesians 4:1-6; Luke 12:54-59 (477). “You know how to interpret the appearance of the earth and the sky; why do you not know how to interpret the present time?”

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 25

MEMORIAL OF THE BLESSED VIRGIN MARY

Glory to God in the highest

Media resources tend to shower glory on athletes, celebrities, and winning candidates. This worldly praise and honor doesn’t resemble the divine attribute of glory much. God chooses to share a reflection of divine glory with a surprisingly different cast of characters: the meek, the lowly, the little ones. This glory gives the saints their radiant haloes and makes people with loving ways shine when they walk in the room. On this final Saturday of Rosary Month, pray the Glorious Mysteries for more radiant ones to bless our world!

TODAY’S READINGS: Ephesians 4:7-16; Luke 13:1-9 (478). “He . . . is the same one who ascended far above all the heavens, so that he might fill all things.”
